It was the second home-run hit over that fence that has ever been made on the Washington Park grounds, Tim Flood made the other

The Marions were in the game all the time and while their fielding in one or two spots was a little ragged at times, their hitting was enough to offset the misplays which aided Indianapolis to score. The prosiers fielded well, with the exception of two missplays, but they could not find haub's curves often enough to land a vicand while Fox did not make an error he misjudged a fly ball in the fourth inning.

A STRONG WIND. The strong wind was largely accountable for the play, as the ball was batted high in the air and Fox ran in on it. The wind carrecover himself in time to get under it before it reached the ground Hogriever was the shining light of the Hoosiers and took in three hard flies in Bey batted well for the Hoosiers and Belcher, Truby, Shaw and Daub aided in the run-getting for the visitors.

A cold wind blew across the diamond all the afternoon, but a large crowd was present to witness the last game at home until May 30. From the opening inning until the ast man was out the two teams fought hard for the victory and there was a great the desire of the opposing players to win. In the seventh inning Marion had three men on bases with no one out, the first man having singled and the next two beat out the next man went out easily.

DANIEL DAUB'S WORK. Daniel Daub, who is well known to Indianapolis enthusiasts; pitched the entire hits off his delivery. In several innings he stopped a threatened bombardment by striking out the Hoosier batters.

Other Events at Morris Park-Kentucky Oaks at Louisville Captured by Lady Schorr.

NEW YORK, May 11.-R. T. Wilson's The Parader, with Jockey Landry in the saddle, won the classic Withers stakes at Morris Park to-day. He made all the running and won easily by two lengths 120-Yard hurdle: Clark, Earlham, first; from Bonnibert. About fifteen thousand persons were in attendance, in spite of the dull and threatening weather. The track was heavy, and that probably accounted for the scratching of Commando and Smile from the Withers. Among the others The Parader was a slight favorite at 9 to 3 while Bonnibert was held at 11 to 5. All Green was at 13 to 5 and Bellario was at 5 to 1. On the first break they were sent off to a good start, and The Parader shot to the front and showed the way under a first: Trester, Earlham, second. Distance, | steady pull up the back stretch, with Bonnibert and All Green, neck and neck, following. Bellario was slow to get into his stride, but Bullman took him up to the pacemaker after a quarter had been run. They ran head and head around the turn, 4 to 1; Sweet Dream, 5 to 1. while Bonnibert and All Green were runring like a team three lengths back. Rounding into the stretch The Parader drew away from Bellario and Bonnibert moved on the rail and went after the flying leader. Dale could not keep him straight, however, under the whip, and The Parader galloped home an easy winner by two lengths. Bonnibert beat Bellario two lengths for the place, while All Green was beaten off. The Fashion stakes was the other fixture, and after a long and tedious delay at the post Amicitia, the favorite, won by a neck from The Hoyden and Gunfire, who were heads apart behind her. Winners in order: Paul Clifford, 7 to 5; Laodice, 20 to 1;
